Date	Terms Performed By:	Terms Performed For:
September 18, 1890	[COP NAME HERE]	Eugene R. Pepperbottom

This Statement of Existence (SOE) is issued pursuant of the desire to escape death and torture, and is made between Eugene R. Pepperbottom (“Client”) and [COP NAME] (“Contractor”), effective September 18, 1890 (the “Covenant”). This SOE is subject to the terms and conditions contained in the Covenant between the parties and is made a part thereof. Any term not otherwise defined herein shall have the meaning specified in the Covenant. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of this SOE and the terms of this Covenant, the terms of this SOE shall govern and prevail.

This SOE # 001 (hereinafter called the “SOE”), effective as of September 18, 1890, is entered into by and between Contractor and Client, and is subject to the terms and conditions specified below. The Exhibit(s) to this SOE, if any, shall be deemed to be a part hereof. In the event of any inconsistencies between the terms of the body of this SOE and the terms of the Exhibit(s) hereto, the terms of the body of this SOE shall prevail.

Period of Performance

The Terms shall commence on September 18, 1890, and shall continue for the remainder of the Contractor’s life.

Engagement Resources

Any supplies granted to the Contractor by either the FBPI, or the Seven Deadly Sins (“SDS”). The SDS as outlined in this Covenant is confined to the following relevant persons; Mr. Eugene R. Pepperbottom, Mr. Remy Delaporte, Mr. Valentine Bruner, Ms. Andrea, Ms. Catherine Thorne, Ms. Viveka Sauer, and Her Imperial Highness Nina Qajar. In addition to any personal effects the Contractor can gather without exposing themselves to undue harm, and any assets of The Custodians of Sin acquired henceforth.

Contractor Responsibilities

The responsibilities of the Contractor are as follows;

The Contractor is henceforth forbidden from harming the relevant members of the SDS physically. This includes but is not limited to, personal combat, ranged projectiles, traps of any sort, otherworldly powers, and elaborately staged accidents. In addition, the Contractor is forbidden from hindering any actions of the SDS by negatively affecting their ability to accomplish tasks or inserting themselves into inconvenient situations. The Contractor cannot condone violent action against the SDS or have someone else act in the manner described above by his request.

The Contractor is able to retain some autonomy, but must consider the consequences of every action and refrain from continuing if it appears it shall negatively impact the SDS or CoS,t. The requests or orders of any member of the SDS must be followed as soon as possible, and to the highest degree of perfection. However, a request that would somehow harm SDS can be rejected, provided that the Contractor explains their reasoning for not complying. A repetition of the command will override the Contractor's ability to decline the task.

The Contractor is a valuable asset to the SDS, and must prioritize their survival over everything but the survival of the SDS. While the Contractor can participate in conflict outside of the SDS and CoS,t at their discretion, at the first hints of a loss the Contractor must flee to preserve themselves. Additionally, the Contractor is prohibited from informing others of the binds of this Covenant and the existence of the SDS. The Contractor must hide these ties to the best of their ability.

The Contractor is assigned as the Archon of The Custodians of Sin ("CoS,t"). As the head of this organization, priority should be placed on gaining operational funds in a quick manner, through legal or illegal means. In addition to gaining funds, establishing a base of operations and front are also important goals. Recruitment of new members to serve as agents of CoS,t is also the responsibility of the Contractor, the correct procedure being to bring them to the Client to complete a similar Covenant. CoS,t operations are to be used exclusively to increase its own power, grow their assets, gather intelligence, or assist in SDS activities. There are 12 allotted hours for rest and idle activities per day. The distribution of these hours is up to the Contractor, however direct requests by SDS requires immediate attention. The remaining 12 hours of each day requires productive work in growing CoS,t. The method of improvement is ultimately up to the Contractor. As Archon of CoS,t the Contractor is expected to deliver daily progress reports to the Client. This requirement may be waived dependent on the success of CoS,t.

In line with the Contractor's new position and title, a new name and history for them shall be required. It is established here that the new name for the Contractor is Anderson Cooper. The Contractor must only answer to this name henceforth. It is important that the Contractor invents a life story for themselves, the extent of which must be discrete and credible, but otherwise is up to the discretion of the Contractor. The Contractor should make efforts to avoid persons who may recognize them from their previous existence at all costs. Additionally, as the Archon of CoS,t, the Contractor should take great lengths to avoid exposing themselves to CoS,t's and SDS' enemies.

Finally, the Contractor's last responsibilities are ones of the mind. The Contractor is expected to never let negative thoughts cross their mind about any of the members of SDS, CoS,t or the FBPI. Henceforth, the Contractor shall see the silver lining in every consequence and operate in a friendly manner towards everyone he comes across. The Contractor shall see his new position as one of great potential and hold the highest of respects and gratitude for other members of CoS,t and the Client.

Client Responsibilities

The responsibilities of the Client are as follows;

The Client loses the ability to harm the Contractor physically, and must insist that the relevant persons involved within the SDS and CoS, also follow this guideline. The Client also is expected to not purposefully harm the Contractor mentally or emotionally as well. A pleasant business environment is a productive one.

Following the guidelines outlined below, the Client is expected to hear and give serious thought to any properly submitted Asset Request Procedures.

Fee Plan

This engagement will be conducted on a One-Time Fee basis. The total value for the Services pursuant to this SOE shall not exceed $50 unless otherwise agreed to by both parties via the Asset Request Procedures, as outlined within.

This figure is based on the average lifespan of previous Contractors.

Out-of-Pocket Expenses / Asset Request Procedures

Client will be beholden to a one-time fee of $50 for the resulting services and initial expenses. Standard United States paper currency is assumed to be acceptable. Payments are due upon signing.

Client will not be responsible for any costs associated with out-of-pocket expenses (including, without limitation, costs and expenses associated with meals, lodging, local transportation and any other applicable business expenses). Reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses in connection with performance of this SOE, when authorized and up to the limits set forth in this SOE, shall be in accordance with Client's then-current published policies governing travel and associated business expenses, which information shall be provided by the above statement.
